

Nativity of John the Baptist

He asked for a tablet and wrote,
"John is his name," and all were amazed. Immediately his mouth was opened, his tongue freed,
and he spoke blessing God.

ALL ARE WELCOME! A MEMBER OF BLESSED TERESA OF CALCUTTA DEANERY

Dear People of God,

Last weekend I mentioned substance, the sensible way we get to know things around us. Along the way to my defense for the doctoral degree I spent a lot of time researching how we humans get to know. As part of my work I studied the five senses (there are six, did you know? The sixth is the one that makes you feel hungry, feel the needle go in when you get a shot, know when your teeth need attention or when you need to visit the WC). I also studied at great length how the information we get from the five senses becomes knowledge, and it's an amazing function of our mind. Basically, to 'know' something is to eliminate everything we've ever seen, heard, tasted, touched or smelled until nothing is left but what the object we're perceiving happens to be. Working with the psychology department on this as a Catholic project kind of upset the young scientists-to-be who wanted everything to be simple and mathematically decipherable. What got them so upset are the astronomical operations required to make those eliminations because we eliminate everything, and that comes out to a huge figure in terms of the number of sensory inputs each of the five senses has been sending into the brain from well before we're born (another reason the Church does not like abortion) together with the various combinations of time and place. The figure is a big one, and if you want you can spread it out on paper to take a look, but trust me, it's bigger than the number of stars and planets in the universe, bigger than the number of atoms in the universe, so big that you can only conclude it's about as close to God as you can get. And yet any of us can look up at the altar and without any difficulty at all figure out which is the chalice, the bowl, the deacon, the candle and so on. By the way, the number is $2.484 \times 10^{13} \times 5^{15}$ by the time we reach the so-called age of reason which most scientists believe occurs around the age of seven. Multiply that number of approximately 22×10^{23} for each subsequent year you've lived because your five senses have continued to send in a lot more information which is being cross-referenced to everything already in there. In case you're wondering, the actual capacity of your brain/mind approaches infinity so there's plenty of room for whatever adventure lies ahead. At any rate, the ability we all take for granted, whether it recognizing the aroma of a good steak as we drive past Mancy's, or the view across Lake Erie from the Victory Monument, or the exquisite taste of a Whopper at the nearby drive through, certainly does reflect that we are in the image and likeness of God because no other created thing can appreciate all of those tastes, views, aromas the way we can, recalling them later to enjoy again and again. So the next time you hear that old song suggesting you smell the roses along the way, do so because that's what your God does, except he'll also be gathering in the color of the petals, the careful architecture of stem and leaf, the amazing softness of the flower, the taste of the sweet nectar that bee is so busily trying to collect. It's a miracle we perform so often we hardly even notice. So take time to notice.

Myst. Chris

The Celebration of Sacraments

Infant Baptism: The Sacrament of Baptism is regularly celebrated on Sunday during or after the Eucharistic Liturgy. Registered parishioners are asked to arrange for the Baptismal Preparation Class and the Liturgical Celebration by calling the Parish Office.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults: RCIA is the process of growing in your faith and love of God. Weekly gatherings take place from September until Easter. If you are interested in learning about Catholicism and joining us please call Deacon Tom at the rectory at Historic St. Patrick @ 419-243-6452.

Penance: The Sacrament of Penance is celebrated at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday at IC, 9:30 a.m. at HSP and 10:30 a.m. at IC every Sunday or by appointment.

Matrimony: Anyone planning to be married must contact the parish at least six months in advance. The exact date and time of your wedding should not be determined until after consultation with a priest or deacon. If either party has previously been civilly or religiously married, the Presider is not permitted to set a date for the wedding without resolving the previous marriage.

Pastoral Care of the Sick: When a parishioner is admitted to the hospital, nursing home, or confined to home because of age or infirmity, please call the Parish Office. Parishioners are ready to visit and to bring Holy Communion. When one is seriously ill, the healing Presence of the Lord should be requested in the Sacrament of the Sick.
