Dear People of God,

I was asked by a young visitor the other day about ringing bells at Mass. In her parish they don't ring them at all. We are once again looking at a practical matter which took on theological "meaning." The custom of ringing bells during the consecration dates back to the period when the Mass became a top secret bit of business in which the people took minimal part. This was one of the unintended consequences of the Council of Trent because the Mass is a family meal at which all are welcome and all should be participants not be mere observers (have you ever asked somebody over to watch you enjoy dinner and not take part?). The gathering of the Catholic bishops at Trent settled on a single expanded ritual for the celebration of Mass and devised the Roman Missal, an updated version of which we use today. The altar was placed against the back wall (something you won't see at St. Peter's, St. John Lateran or Mary Major in Rome or any church built before 1500 where the more traditional placement remained in effect) so the priest faced away from the congregation and what he was doing up there was, literally and figuratively, a mystery. To interrupt whatever was going on out among the people when the consecration took place (as a kid I recall the Sanctus went on for a longer period than it does now because our parish used scores written by the Masters, usually Mozart, and it stopped after the first set of hosannas because ...), the bells were rung. This occurred at determined moments. The first time was the imposition of hands, a symbolic gesture which signed the immense power of God being called down on the sacrificial gifts (listen to the priest and you'll hear him invoke the power of the Holy Spirit just as he does at baptism, reconciliation, anointing of the sick, and the bishop does at orders and confirmation). A second ringing occurred when the priest elevated the host. Because he did it where no one could see and the entire purpose was for the public veneration of the Body of Christ by that congregation the congregation needed to be advised to do some venerating. A third ring let the people know that the Blood of Christ had been consecrated and the people were again to offer public veneration. A fourth ring when the celebrant knelt signaled that the people could get back to whatever they were doing before being interrupted (usually a rosary). The bishops gathered for the Second Vatican Council, asking for full, active participation of the people, recognized that a priest facing away from the people made no sense whatever so they mandated that churches be returned to the more ancient model with the priest behind the altar facing the people so they could follow along and visually respond to the key moments of the consecration. Unless somebody was chattering with a neighbor at the back of the church or out on the front steps grabbing a quick smoke, ringing bells was no longer necessary and many parishes decided to retire them. Other parishes retained the custom following the preferences of the pastor rather than any hard and fast rule which means any time the pastor leaves and a new one arrives the custom may or may not be followed.

Meg. Chris

The Celebration of Sacraments

Infant Baptism: The Sacrament of Baptism is regularly celebrated on Sunday during or after the Eucharistic Liturgy. Registered parishioners are asked to arrange for the Baptismal Preparation Class and the Liturgical Celebration by calling the Parish Office.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults: RCIA is the process of growing in your faith and love of God. Weekly gatherings take place from September until Easter. If you are interested in learning about Catholicism and joining us please call Deacon Tom at the rectory at Historic St. Patrick @ 419-243-6452.

Penance: The Sacrament of Penance is celebrated at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday at IC, 9:30 a.m. at HSP and 10:30 a.m. at IC every Sunday or by appointment.

Matrimony: Anyone planning to be married must contact the parish at least six months in advance. The exact date and time of your wedding should not be determined until after consultation with a priest or deacon. If either party has previously been civilly or religiously married, the Presider is not permitted to set a date for the wedding without resolving the previous marriage.

Pastoral Care of the Sick: When a parishioner is admitted to the hospital, nursing home, or confined to home because of age or infirmity, please call the Parish Office. Parishioners are ready to visit and to bring Holy Communion. When one is seriously ill, the healing Presence of the Lord should be requested in the Sacrament of the Sick.

WELCOME TO IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Welcome to Immaculate Conception where all are truly made a welcome part of our parish family whether in Ministry, Service or Leadership. Here, all are God's children, their dignity as God's own affirmed and celebrated. If you are interested in becoming a parishioner please call the parish office at 419-243-1829. Registration forms for new parishioners can be found on the visitor's stand in the back of church. Also available on line at www.iccatdarby.org
